Child Sexual Abuse

Child sexual abuse is the exploitation of a child for the sexual gratification of an adult or caregiver. Sexual abuse includes both touching and non-touching offenses.¹

Prevalence of Sexual Abuse of Children
Child sexual abuse is often underreported.² As such, the following data points likely underestimate the frequency of sexual abuse.

- 1 in 4 girls experience child sexual abuse.³
- 1 in 13 boys experience child sexual abuse.⁴

Of the children removed from their home in 2023,⁵

- 3% were removed for reasons of sexual abuse.⁵

* A child may be removed for more than one reason.

Types of Offenses

Touching Offenses:
- Fondling
- Sodomy
- Rape
- Intercourse
- Masterbation

Non-touching Offenses:
- Child pornography
- Indecent exposure

Who are the perpetrators?

| Nearly one-third of victims are abused by family members.⁹ |

People who sexually abuse children look just like everyone else. Abusers can be neighbors, religious leaders, teachers, family members, or anyone who interacts with children.¹⁰ The majority of children who are sexually abused DO NOT tell anyone about it. Many children are afraid of getting in trouble, worried about what people will think, or simply do not understand what is happening to them.¹¹
Did you know?

- The sexual preference of a perpetrator does not make them more likely to sexually abuse children.\(^{12}\)
- There is no research that says a transgender person is more likely to sexually abuse children than someone who is not transgender.\(^{13}\)
- Although men are consistently shown to commit the majority of child sexual abuse, women are also abusers.\(^{14}\)
- In 2018, Georgia mandated age-appropriate sexual abuse and assault awareness education for all students K-9th grade.\(^{15}\)
- Georgia’s Child Sexual Abuse and Exploitation Prevention Technical Assistance Resource Guide (TARG) outlines sexual abuse prevention strategies.\(^{16}\)

Labeling Youth as Sexual Predators

- Juveniles represent one-fourth of all sex offenders and one-third of known offenders against other juveniles.\(^{17}\)
- 40% to 80% of juvenile sex offenders have themselves been victims of sexual abuse. These children are often responding to their own trauma.\(^{18}\)
- Juvenile sex offenders are unlikely to commit another sex offense later in life.\(^{19}\) Studies universally confirm that juvenile sex offense recidivism is relatively low with an estimated rate of 7%.\(^{20}\) In addition, interventions for juvenile sex offenders have been shown to be particularly effective.\(^{21}\)

How Can I Help?

- Encourage community members to learn how they can prevent child sexual abuse. For example, consider taking a Darkness to Light Stewards of Children training. Learn more at www.d2l.org.
- Educate adults, youth, and children about the harm caused by treating others as sexual objects.
- Develop relationships with your local state and federal representatives, and educate them about child sexual abuse and exploitation.

If you suspect that a child is being abused, call the Division of Family and Children Services at 1-855-GACHILD immediately to report your concerns.
